I really liked Pirates of the Caribbean, Dead Man's chest. It's a follow-up to the first Pirates of the Caribbean film. I love action and adventure films. I think the first one was better than this follow-up though. The story in this one isn't very good, but it's got lots of action. And Johnny Depp is brilliant as Captain Jack Sparrow. He's really funny.

The Incredibles is a computer animation. It's about this family of superheroes and they're really funny. It's one of the best comedies I've ever seen. I suppose it's a children's film really, but I like it. I have to say it's one of my all-time favourite films. The story is great. I love the characters in the family, especially the baby Jack-Jack. He's really cool. I hope there'll be a follow-up.

I saw Oliver Twist with my class at school. We're reading the book by Charles Dickens in my English class. I quite enjoyed the film. It's set in 19th-century London. The acting was good. I liked Barney Clarke as Oliver, and I really liked Ben Kingsley as Fagan too. The photography was great as well. It really looked like Victorian London. The story is fantastic, a really exciting drama, but I prefer the book. The film is a bit too long.

I saw Superman returns with my boyfriend. I don't normally like films like that, you know, action or fantasy, but it was really good. It had a really good story. It was quite sad in places too, quite romantic, because Superman is trying to get back with the woman he loves, Lois Lane, and the special effects were brilliant. Superman goes to the bottom of the ocean, and out into space, and you really believe he's there.
