Speaking

Task

You will have to start in 1,5 minutes and will speak for not more than 3 minutes (12-15 sentences).

You are a scientist who has invented a new gadget (see the photo). Present it to the board of potential investors. In your speech do not forget to

- give a brief description of the item;
- speak about the purpose of the item;
- mention some interesting facts about the item; what makes it different from similar objects;
- give details of the budget and possible additional expenses during the mass production of the item and its promotion.

Don't forget to give a short introduction and conclusion.

You have to talk continuously.
