B. Godstow A narrow beach which is surrounded by high cliffs and is popular for sunbathing, surfing and sailing. It is safe to swim here, it is next to Winburn Golf Club but there is no car park and the only access is along the coastal path. No cafe or shopping facilities.

Task 2. Read about American school traditions and for items 6-20 do the crossword.

School Traditions in the USA

THE PROM. American schools have all sorts of traditions. The biggest event is the senior prom, which is a huge summer party in the final year of high school when you're 17-18. It's the last party before university and takes place after all your exams. There's also all the excitement of who you'll go to the prom with. It can be your boyfriend or girlfriend or someone you really like. Sometimes friends go together, too. There are also junior proms that happen when you're 16 but they're nothing compared to the senior prom!

PROM PREPARATIONS. During the year an elected prom committee meets up to discuss what the prom will be like. Students discuss the theme, the venue, the music and the DJs, and security. Some committees raise money for the prom by having auctions or talent shows. Tickets cost around $100 per couple if you want dinner. It can easily cost $500 per student. Girls plan what they're going to wear months before and can spend hundreds of dollars on hairdressers, shoes and make-up. Guys usually buy or rent a tuxedo. Couples arrive by limousine and are met by a photographer. Many families prepare for the prom by hanging large graduation signs outside their home. The banners show the name of the person going to the prom. More importantly, it also shows they have graduated!

HOMECOMING. Another important high school party is Homecoming. This takes place in the fall semester in September or October. The whole school is involved in this party and it's all about school pride. There is often a game of soccer with a rival school and a big dance too. Students vote for a Homecoming King and Queen and the runners-up are the King and Queen's "court". The King and Queen are usually the most popular students in the school. Often, they are good at sport, or have a nice personality.
